Notes Page

People with brain injuries living in Kansas have utilized the rehabilitation facilities described in the following pages; however, this is not a comprehensive list of all rehabilitation options. Inclusion of a facility does not indicate superiority or endorsement; exclusion of a facility does not indicate that the facility is not recommended. Individuals and family members choose rehabilitation options based upon personal preference, closeness to home, services required and, in some cases, people are transported to the facility nearest the site of the injury. For a complete listing of all rehabilitation facilities and programs in Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Colorado, Missouri and Texas, contact the Brain Injury Association or other state brain injury associations.

This directory is organized first by category of services and alphabetically by city. To find services located geographically closest to you, identify the city closest to you in the section. For additional information, visit www.tbikansas.org or call your local SRS office.
